About this event – Stage two of the job search process

Following on from our first workshop in March which focused on the overall job search process, we are now organising the next workshop which deep dives into the next stage of the job search. This interactive workshop can help you gain a better understanding of:

- What recruiters typically look for and how? (Hard vs soft skills)
- Preparing your key job search materials (CVs, application forms and cover letters)
- Tailoring your job search materials to specific jobs
- Preparing for the interview and interview questions (short introduction)
